2. From the meeting of January 2, 2007, Gang Initiative: Enforcement, Suppression, Intervention and Prevention Strategies.

Police Chief Christopher Shawkey and Police Captain Ron Smith presented the staff report.

With regards to the progress of the Newport Mesa Unified School District (NMUSD) on reducing the the number of truanancies per day the Mayor suggested a meeting with the Principal at the fourth and fifth truancy incident.

Ken Blankshain, Fountain Valley, expressed opposition to daytime curfews and spoke about an ad-hoc group called Citizens for Responsible and Constitutional Laws who are opposed to daytime curfew in Orange County and the State of California.

Rod Yardley, Costa Mesa, opposed daytime curfews in Costa Mesa and presented a petition of 490 signatures opposing daytime curfews. He commented that daytime curfew is not a solution to the gang problem and expressed support of Police to fight gang activity.

Jeff Morris, Costa Mesa, spoke about the staff report and truancy laws; and stated that daytime curfew assumes a minor's presumption of guilt.

Stephanie Morris, Costa Mesa, quoted a resolution opposing daytime curfew that was passed by the Orange County Board of Education in 1997; expressed concern on being stopped by police and trying to prove that she is homeschooled.

Rachael Godwin, Costa Mesa, shared three incidents from the City of Monrovia relating to the approval of daytime curfew and encouraged the Council to oppose daytime curfew in Costa Mesa.

Robin Nordell, Fullerton, spoke in opposition to daytime curfew and commented on incidents relating to the Daytime Curfew Ordinance of the City of Monrovia.

Tim Kuhlmann, Costa Mesa, commented that he is a father of homeschooled children and shared his reasons for opposing daytime curfew stating that it was a wrong solution, eroded freedom, and opined it was bad for the City's image.

Mary Godwin, Costa Mesa, expressed appreciation of the Police Department commenting that daytime curfew would place minors in a defensive situation. She encouraged the Council not to support daytime curfew.

David Kinkade, Costa Mesa, congratulated the Police Chief and staff on the comprehensive staff report, stated that it is a great plan, and encouraged Council to support the Gang Initiative Program.

Mike Berry, Costa Mesa, expressed concern on the approval of the Gang Initiative Program without approval of a Truancy Ordinance and commented on the need for involvement by the schools and school district.

Jane Garland, Director of Project ASK, answered questions from the City Council, commented on the 30 percent improvement on the number of trancies due to the School Attendance Review Board (SARB) process pointing out that there were 500 to 600 children meeting with the District Attorney in the past two months.

Chris Bunyan, Costa Mesa, advised of a proposed Senate bill amending California Penal Code 186.22 on gang activity and extended sentencing.
